

JERRY BARTLETT ANGLING COLLECTION

Presents...masks, puppets and live original music by Arm of the Sea!

Photo © Jim Peppler

THE CITY THAT DRINKS THE MOUNTAIN SKY PART TWO

THE EPIC STORY OF THE NEW YORK CITY WATER SUPPLY

Saturday, April 6, 2019 at 2pm • Free!

Phoenicia Elementary School

School Lane, Phoenicia, NY 12464

Arm of the Sea Theater presents a delightful new production that tells the epic story of the New York City water supply. With outrageously colorful masks and costumes, hand-painted sets, amazing puppets and live music, the cast traces the journey of life's quintessential liquid from mountain to tap. Youngsters and oldsters alike will find plenty of visual punch and timely wit in this 55 minute performance.

This event is made possible with funds from the Catskill Watershed Corporation in partnership with New York City Department of Environmental Protection. More information about the Jerry Bartlett Angling Collection can be found at www.catskillanglingcollection.org.